DR. CRAWFORD'S CASE.

Judge Harper Overrules Mr. Moore's Demurrer.

THE LAW IN FORCE HERE.

Testimony Introduced to Show the Accused's Habits.

The Edmunds Anti-Polygamy law is in force in the District.

At least that is what Judge Harper decided in the Police Court this after noon when overruling Mr. Moore's de-murrer in the case of Surgeon Crawford of the navy, charged with im-proper relations with little Eva White. It was nearly 2 o'clock when the case

It was nearly 2 o'clock when the case was called. A number of petty charges had been tried first and had de layed the much talked-of_affair. By 1 o'clock the crowd in the Police Court had grown uncomfortably large, and by the time Judge Harper rendered his decision there was hardly standing room in the old chape!

Judge Harper announced that after considering the case he had come to the conclusion that the Edmunds law is in force here.

Conclusion to the force here.

"Did I understand you to say that the law is not in force here?" Inquired Mr. Moore anxiously.

"It is in force," said the Judge.

"It is in force?" responded Mr.

"It is in force?" responded Mr. Moore.
Mr. Moore submitted to the inevitable.
"I will enter a plea of not gulity," said he.
Millard II. Crawford sat an interested but theroughly self possessed spectator.
After some discussion it was decided to consolidate the informations alleging distinct offenses. Joseph G. Shelton, who resides at Twelfth and D streets southeast, commenced his teatimony. He had known Eva White for the last ten or twelve years.

He had known Eva White for the last ten or twelve years.

"Is she wearing long dresses yet?" inquired Prosecutor Lipseomb.

"I object te that, exclaimed Mr. Moore. "I don't care whether she wore a trail six feet long or whether her dresses reach only to her knoe. This is a case of simple fornication, and the age of the girl cuts no figure in the case unless as a possible means of prejudice. They might have been short on secount of shrinkage.

The question was withdrawn to save time.

The question was withdrawn to save time.

Mr. Moore objected to the question whether he had seen the girl with any man in the grounds.

The witness was allowed to answer. In the first of July, or the tatter part of June, he had observed Crawford and Eva White walking up and down the grounds. He had never seen Crawford there when the Dector was home. He stated that they were sitting side by side, as if a young couple were sparking.

side, as if a young couple were sparking.

Hans Bowdwin, a colored man, teatified to seeing a young girl about the grounds who he thought was Eva White.

Edward F. Wright, who lives near the Whites, said that he had seen Crawford go to the Whites' house on Sundays, between 9 and 11:30 a. m., and remain from a half to two hours.

Mr. Moore then stated that he would object to any more such trash of this soil until the actual net had been established.

"I don't care to bandy adjectives with my friend. The usual method, as in murder, is to commence with the motive and minor facts and follow up to the crime."

I sale Edwards, a colored girl living on C street, near the Whites, stated that on the Saturday before Eva left the city she saw her sitting on Crawford's lap with her arms on his shoulder as she passed. White's on her way to the pump.

This testimony caused many objections. Mr. Lipscomb stated that he wanted to show that there was no blackmailing scheme gotten up by Offleer Pierson, such as parties had rushed into print about.

Mr. Moore jumped up excitedly and said that he objected to any such form of statement.

said that he objected to any such form of statement.

"The District Attorney," said he.
"Is pursuing the same old racket that is as veritable a chestnut as if it had whiskers!"

At five minutes of 3 the Judge stated that he had passed through one of the most exhaustive sittings the Court had ever known and suggested an adjournment.

Both sides were unanimous in wish

Both sides were unanimous in wishing to go on, and the court decided to set until 3:30.

Officer Pierson described the landing where Crawford and Eva were seated as being in the northeast corner of the lot, surrounded with trees. It was visible from the street.

"Are you married?" inquired Mr. Moore.

No, sir," answered the officer. "No, str," answered the officer.
"Were you ever martied?"
The officer hesitated and declined to answer. He did not propose to have his family affairs investigated.
Finally he stated that he never was martied. He was asked whether he ever reported himself as married at the station.

pose to answer until he knew what the information was for.

Mr. Moore stated that he proposed to attack the credibility of the witness. As this report closed the discussion of this point was going on.

interest in real estate, city and suburhan continues with wonderful vigor. This may be attributed in a degree to the pains taken by Ton Christ to keep the subject before the public, and to the fact that this paper is read with equal, if not forcessed, eagerness by Washington people at summer resorts, to whom it is mailed regularly every day. It is also true that capitalists at the seastle and mountains relax not a whit their in terest in home matters, while they have more time to consider and act with discretion in directing their towestments by mail. With a probably early termination of the severe thrid temperature, the ardor will heighten; and it is afe to prophesy an autumn and winter of unequaled activity, whereast, calculating business men see the importance of being early in the field, and it is one of the healthest indications of the "boom" that the heaviest operators in real estate in the District of Columbia are those who, by years of residence here, are three-oughly peated as to precent and propertive values.

Some changes have been made in real estate offices during the week; among others, Mr. David D. Store, late on No. 1250 F street, northwest, has taken the escritally-located office. In conversation with Mr. Store it was learned that during the past few weeks he has cold quite a number of houses, and has impulied for more. He reports prices as very drm, with an upward tendency; and looks for remarkable activity in subardun property in the fall, remarking that "shrewd operators are picking hat dealed to the later in the selection of purchases.

RUFFIN'S ANTE-MORTEM STORY.

andergoing the operation of laparotomy, and Dr. Martin, who administered the anisotheties.

Their testimony covered a good deal of the ground heretofore gome over as to the character of the treatment and the operation. Both witnesses approved of the operation as one altogether proper and as offering the only hope of life.

Both also gave it as their opinion that either one of the three wounds in Ruffie's intestines would have resulted fatally without the operation, or with it under the most experienced operator. Dr. Robinson said that he had taken down the ante mortem statement of Ruffia, made with the knowledge that he was soon to die.

But the defense objected to the reading of the statement as not having been properly taken and therefore not admissible as evidence.

The Court sustained the objection and ruled the paper out.
